PHOTOGRAPHS.

The value of a good photograph can hardly be estimated. Its influence on a prospective customer frequently counts for more than the salesman's argument. Indeed, many instances might be cited to prove that a well chosen list of photographs is in itself a salesman of no mean ability.

With this thought in mind, we have endeavored to keep our gallery thoroughly equipped in every way. That its efficiency has been appreciated is evidenced by the growth of the department — a growth that has been attended by the addition of hundreds of new negatives.

All photographs will be mounted on linen and finished with a beautiful mirror gloss surface unless otherwise ordered. This is the finish that is made by the so-called "squeegee" process that has become so popular with the trade.

It has been deemed advisable to discontinue the use of the small negative. All the new designs will be obtainable only in large size photographs. We can still furnish the small size in the old designs.

Photographs will be furnished at the following prices :

Size (10½ by 13½ in.) flexible, per doz.	$7.50

Vermont White Cement.

For many years we have been trying to find a cement which would meet all the requirements of the marble trade. It has been a hard task and one that has called for a vast amount of experimenting. The time has now come, however, when we have something to offer that is really worth while — a product that is absolutely safe to recommend.

A powder and liquid cement that is non-expansive and will not crack the marble — that is white in color and absolutely stainless, that may be easily colored to match different varieties of stone and marble, that is not affected by frost, water or time — best of all, a cement that is double the bulk of any other, therefore, a most economical product.

It has a crushing strength of ten tons to the cubic inch. By actual test it is three times as strong as clear Portland Cement — fourteen times as strong as one part Portland Cement and three parts sand. It makes a joint that is as solid and unbreakable as the stone itself.

It will help the dowel-pins do their work; it will close up the joints and keep out the water and dirt; it will work equally well whatever may be the form or size of the marble and whether the joint be straight or broken. In short, it is good for all kinds of monumental setting and it may be used more freely than other cements because it costs less.

The 3 pound package (3 pounds of powder and 1 pint of liquid) Price, $1.75

The 6 pound package (6 pounds of powder and 1 quart of liquid) Price, $3.00

Extra liquid . . . $.75 per pint; $1.25 per quart

Orders for special work made to order will not be canceled under any circumstances after work has been commenced.

DOWEL-PINS WHICH WILL NOT RUST, either brass, copper, composition or galvanized iron, should always be used to set all marble work. If galvanized iron is used, be sure that the ends of dowels are galvanized, as otherwise rust will form.

Hints for Cleaning Marble.

For nearly all stains on monumental work, except those resulting from oil, use javelle water. This is a simple preparation made from chloride of lime and washing soda. It can be obtained at any drugstore. Frequent and copious application of this liquid will usually restore the marble to its natural condition. It may also be used to good advantage when dirt has become hardened on the surface.

When the stain comes from oil, gasoline of good quality should be used. Saturate cotton waste or blotting paper and press it firmly down on the marble. Allow it to remain for a day or two if necessary, wetting it often with gasoline. The process may be accelerated by the introduction of sunlight or some form of artificial heat.

When these remedies prove ineffective, the only thing to do is to set the monument out in the open and trust to the action of the sun and frost. This will sometimes succeed when all else fails.

Every cemetery memorial should be cleaned with javelle water once or twice a year, and all the dirt and moss that has started to collect should be removed. If foreign substances are allowed to accumulate, they absorb moisture. This tends to roughen the surface and in turn invites the absorption of more moisture. Keep the marble smooth and uncoated and this damage will be averted.

The monument that has once become roughened can best be restored by thorough treatment with pumice stone or fine grit. It is a practice more or less general to use as a renovator a weak solution of muriatic acid. This should never be permitted. The immediate results may appear to justify the treatment, but in the end you will find that the stone has been greatly injured.

In setting a monument, it is poor economy to handle the marble with soiled, greasy hands and then spend several hours cleaning it. A better way is to use gloves.

If marble is given the care that it deserves, the care that any valuable product should receive, there will be no change in its appearance. It will go down through the centuries reflecting the same brilliancy and distinctiveness that it reveals to-day.
